

Clarence Lockett, Jr. has been a board member with the Georgia Prostate Cancer Coalition since 2018. He has engaged in multiple business ventures after retiring December 2012 with over 23 years of honorable active federal service to the United States. His last military assignment culminated with him serving as the Division Chief, Manpower and Personnel at Headquarters United States Central Command (CENTCOM). Clarence's innovative and technical expertise, was paramount in the military which resulted in significant enduring contributions to combating violent extremism. Clarence's efforts helped Saudi Arabia obtain over 23 million dollars to assist in training, advising and equipping the Ministry of Interior Facilities Security Forces. Clarence also assisted in the Iraq transition from Operation IRAQI FREEDOM to Operation NEW DAWN, and the subsequent closure of NEW DAWN to the establishment of Office of Security Cooperation-Iraq.

Clarence's vast knowledge and understanding of complex and diverse strategic and operational planning was paramount in him becoming the principle majority partner for UrbanWorx Partners LLC, a service disable veteran minority business own development company here in Atlanta.

Clarence is also a promoter with the National Gym Association (NGA). The NGA promotes health and wellness through fitness competitions throughout the United States, Italy and South Korea. The NGA is a non-profit organization based out of Coral Springs, Florida.

Education:

The Lovett School

Georgia State University, Bachelor of Arts, Communication

Troy University, Masters in Human Resources

Walden University, PHD Leadership & Organizational Change (Currently not enrolled)

Certifications:

Joint and Interagency Leadership/Management Program, Joint Staff & Command College, Norfolk, VA

Executive Leadership Program, Army Command and Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, KS

U.S. Army Adjutant General Instructor Qualification Course, Fort Jackson SC

Accomplishments and Awards:

Legion of Merit, the Bronze star, (one oak leaf cluster), the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal (four oak leaf clusters), the Joint Service Commendation Medal, the Army Commendation Medal (one oak leaf cluster), and the Army Achievement Medal (one oak leaf cluster) as well as numerous other unit and campaign awards.